

Wolwehoek Shooting Club

Workday at Wolwehoek 03 Jan 2026

Some of the club members were on the range to work on the first Saturday of the year as has been our tradition for the longe past.

Andre Van Rhyn was the first on the range and got stuck into cutting the grass in the handgun arena. He worked up a sweat till way after lunch time. Thanks Andre Van Rhyn. He was joined by Eric Smid who did a lot of odd jobs on equipment. Thanks Eric Clive, Anso, Pieter, Jenniffer and I all arrived at about 10:00.

Pieter, assisted by Jenniffer got stuck into the refurbishing of the plate rack at the bottom of the handgun arena. He managed to get the bow out of the channel iron across the front; and replaced the steel skirt in front of the channel iron. This was welded at a slight angle to deflect the bullets downwards.

Sharon pitched up to help, but we did not deem it necessary for her to work on her own because we all had our work planned out, so she supported Anso at the club house.

Tom arrived to lend support to the efforts where he could.

Clive and I worked on restoring the power supply to the shotgun ranges which were all stolen late in November. We completed the work on Tuesday; we (more Clive than me) also restored the door frame at the low house which was broken out by the thieves to gain access to the cables in the low house.

Once we all had done what we planned, we all went and supported Pieter who was by far the hardest worker among the bunch of us. You can see the "chairperson" sitting there in the background; he loves work, he can sit and watch it all day.

Thanks to all who pitched up to lend a hand, it is much appreciated.
